Reference letter for Vegard Aaberge:

I have been the manager for Vegard during the March 2015 to December 2019. During that period Vegard has been doing software development primarily in C#, Javascript and SQL.

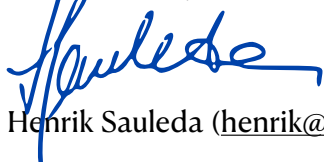

Vegard was immediately productive, and completed several projects in time among those: a program for generating and formatting Word reports from database information including images written in C#, a tailored and very effective CRM for the company to follow customer activities.

Vegards main responsibility has been programming main parts of the Unizite app for both Android and iOS using C# and Xamarin. It is a complex app that allows multiple users to cooperate in an offline manner using a graphical interface. It consists of over 100.000 lines of code.

Vegard possesses great programming skills, and who is always open to learn and improve in his work. Vegard is also a good team member who listens and tries to contribute in a positive way, taking a challenge and working extra if needed.

I highly recommend Vegard for employment as a software engineer. Please feel free to contact me if you need more information.

Yours sincerely,

Henrik Sauleda (henrik@numaquest.no)

CEO Unizite (2013-2019)
